

UC Santa Cruz Arboretum & Botanic Garden Presents Seed Harvest Workshop

Sunday, November 4th, 2018 10am to 2pm

Learn seed-saving and planting techniques to create your own native garden

Participants will learn:

- to identify common California native plants
- to prepare seeds for storage and planting
- successful planting strategies

Will take home:

- Knowledge
- A collection of native seeds
- Compostable planting cups
- A seed-collecting cotton bandana, silk-screened by each of you

$45 (members)

$55 (non-members)

+$20 materials

Class limited to 15

Ages 12 and up

Vincent Waring is a California Naturalist and maker based in Santa Cruz, CA. His art explores ecology of wild and intentional spaces through imagery by utilizing printmaking, painting, and drawing. His extensive skills include working with wood, textiles, and plants.

Melody Overstreet is a local artist, poet, California Naturalist, and educator. Her work has been exhibited locally as well as internationally with a recent exhibit in Macau, China. She offers nature-craft workshops through Cabrillo College extension, the UCSC Arboretum, and Kids in Nature that emphasize the importance of our connection to place, community, and seeds.

To Register & pay for the class, call the Arboretum office
Monday-Friday from 9am-5pm at 831-502-2998

<https://arboretum.ucsc.edu/news-events/events/>